Twin Cities Bridge Collapse Salvage Operation

Salvage operations are not new to Ee-Jay as we have been evacuating derailed cars and damaged tanks and silos since our very inception. The August 1, 2007 catastrophic and tragic interstate bridge collapse in Minneapolis has again challenged us to implement innovative approaches consistent with safety and caution as we take steps to protect and extract damaged property.

Ee-Jay is working in concert with the National Transportation Safety Board, The Minnesota Department of Public Safety, the Minnesota DOT and the Minnesota Commercial Railway

New Sterling Mercedes Tractors

Ee-Jay has recently taken delivery of another five new tractors. These five 2007 Model AT9500 Sterlings are equipped with Mercedes Benz MBE4000-450 engines and Eaton Fuller FRO-15210C transmissions. Additionally, each tractor has been fitted with a new Model D807 Drum blower complete with stainless steel silencer, Muncie PTO and temperature gauges. Maintaining a modern, reliable and late model fleet of vehicles enables Ee-Jay to serve its customers in accordance with the high standards with which they have become accustomed. It also gives our drivers, present and prospective,
